

WILL ESTABLISH MEDICAL COURSE

University of Utah Plans to Start One Next Fall.

WORK TO BE PRELIMINARY STUDENTS WILL BE FITTED FOR THE LARGER INSTITUTIONS.

The University of Utah is to have a medical department conducted under the supervision of Dr. R. V. Chamberlain. Part of the museum building has been converted into biological class rooms and next year the whole second floor will be devoted to this department. A library is to be fitted out specially for this department.

A course has been outlined by Dr. Chamberlain and he will be assisted by Dr. E. G. Gowan and several other eastern men.

The courses are arranged as follows: Freshman year: Rhetoric, German or French, zoology and chemistry, both general and qualitative analysis.

Sophomore year: Organic chemistry, physics, mammalian anatomy, comparative anatomy of the vertebrates, German or French.

Junior year: Physiological chemistry, toxicology, histology, embryology, osteology, neurology, anatomy and bacteriology.

Senior year: Higher physiology, pathology, pharmacy and pharmacology, medical jurisprudence and anatomy. A thesis embracing original work along any of these lines will also be required.

The completion of this course fits a student to enter the junior year in the eastern college medical courses, and a B. A. degree will be given by the university.

Interest has been taken by the medical fraternity of Salt Lake City and they are endeavoring to push the matter along. Many of them are working with Dr. Chamberlain.

Dr. Chamberlain was graduated from the state university in the arts course. After teaching here some time he went to Cornell to complete a medical course. He received a Ph. D. and taught there for some time. He returned to Utah a short time ago, and has been foremost in the movement to establish a medical department at the state university.

SOLONS SEE CUT-OFF.

Take Trip Over Lake as Guests of Oregon Short Line.

Members of the legislature who took the trip across the Lucin cut-off yesterday returned with a unanimous conviction that building forty-two miles of railroad across a lake is something of a chore. Most of the members of the party had not viewed the cut-off before, and therefore, had no adequate conception of the magnitude of the undertaking. They were profuse in expressions of surprise and admiration.

The trip was thoroughly enjoyed by the lawmakers and their friends. About 125 persons, including almost all the members of the legislature, made up the party, under the charge of Assistant General Passenger and Ticket Agent D. S. Spencer and General Superintendent E. Buckingham of the Oregon Short Line. The train left Salt Lake at 10 o'clock and arrived at Hogup, an even hundred miles from Salt Lake. Perfect weather characterized the day and made the outing a memorable one.

The train was taken across the entire cut-off to Hogup, where it was turned around and brought back. A stop was made at Midlake to give the members of the party an opportunity to inspect the work at close range. While the special waited at Midlake the eastbound overland limited whizzed by at full speed, giving the excursionists an idea of the running possibilities of the cut-off.

Light refreshments were served on the trip and the train reached Salt Lake on its return about 6 o'clock.

WILL GO INTO LIFE INSURANCE

Mormon Leaders Are Forming Company For Local Business.

IS LARGELY SUBSCRIBED

JOSEPH F. SMITH TO BE PRESIDENT OF NEW CONCERN.

Plans for a home life insurance company which promises to divert from eastern companies vast sums of money every year are being consummated in this city, and within a short time it will be incorporated. Joseph F. Smith, president of the Mormon church, will be president of the new company, which will occupy the same place in the life insurance field as that which is occupied by the Home Fire Insurance company in the business of fire insurance. It is to be exclusively a Utah company, and stock subscriptions have been limited to $5,000 to each person.

Associated with President Smith in the new enterprise are Apostle Anthony H. Lund, who is vice president of the Zion's Savings Bank & Trust company, and president of the Utah National bank, Lorenzo N. Stohol, of Brigham City, John Stringham, assistant secretary and manager of the Home Fire Insurance company, George Stringham and numerous local capitalists.

The capital stock of the corporation, which will probably be named the Home Life Insurance company, is placed at $5,000,000, of which amount $100,000 is to be paid in before the corporation is launched. Subscriptions for the stock are received for amounts not exceeding $5,000 and are growing from all parts of the state. So well is the plan received that already the promoters have placed two-thirds of the stock, and as soon as the remaining one-third has been disposed of the incorporation papers will be filed with the secretary of state.

The business of life insurance is a profitable one, and supports a substantial army of officials and solicitors in this state. In Salt Lake twenty-four separate companies are represented by twenty-five agents, a large number of whom maintain offices in Ogden, with five agents. The bulk of the business is written by the big companies of the east, and thousands of dollars are sent to the big commercial centers of the east every year in premiums. Some companies have built up immense reserve funds, which are invested all over the world. The new company will go after the business of Utah and surrounding states.

The completion of this course fits a student to enter the junior year in the eastern college medical courses, and a B. A. degree will be given by the university.
